The have removed their Jewelry Store to the first evening, the moral drama, entitled, "Ten Nights in a Bar room," was presented, and on Priday evening the comic drams entitled, "The Factory Girl." The characters in each of these plays sustained their parts admirably. The tableaux were well managed, arranged with exquisite taste, and received the approval of all .--The first, "The Poet's Dream," was beau tiful, startling the audience with its granduer. The next, "Faith at the Cross," was magnificent, Miss Delia Miller representing "Faith." The next, "Statuary," was very good; it had the appearance of marble, and was loudly applauded. through the columns of your worthy paper, to submit to your renders a few hints on the above caption. If this Scriptural view holds good in one point, why not in all? Especially does the above apply to the minister of the gospel. In this light we wish to view the subject for a moment. Should Ministers of the Gospel receive compensation for officiating on fueral occasions? I answer in the affirmative—We have no more right to impose on a Minister than on any other professional THE THESPIAN SOCIETY .- The enter-occasion, I spent thirty five days out of one year, for which I received but a very small compensation. Were I a laboring man, I could have earned for my family in the above time, at two dollars per day, $70,00; Use of horse and buggy (one dollar per day), $35,00; Wear and tear of our last black suit, gaph day 25 cm, $8,75; Postage on the letters in which the obit-narios were sent to the propers. Paper to write the obituaries on, 31 cts;

Paper to mote the sermon on, (the Gospel is free) $1,00 — making an aggregate of $115,72. When we look at these figures we need not wonder why most of Mississer are poor most of Mississer. we need not wonder why most of Minis-ters are poor men. It is said that figures BUTTER—In light supply and good cannot lie; hence we can easily see how many Ministers are imposed upon by their charges. In the above figures we said nothing of the honest, good hearted Edi-

Our little Affie's gone to rest, And we are left to mourn; His little eyes are closed in death,

He's left us and gone home. Almost twelve years of pain he spent, Upon this earthly shore, But he's where sikness never comes, And serrows are all o'er.

In vain we tried to ease his pain-The angel death came o'er,
And when it clasped his little form,
Alas, we could do nothing more.

Lord, we now give back to Thee
Our derling little boy.
And by Thy strength ning powers.
We'll meet him in the realms of joy. Why do we mourn his loss,

For surely 'tis his gain, But yet it sends our sching hearts-Oh, death, we feel thy sting. But we will say farewell,

We'll shed the parting tear,

For something whispers all is well,

And that the way is clear.
